

Genesis

1 In the beginning there was the Volcano, and the Volcano combined heat and sand, and in the Volcano formed glass.

2 And the glass was without form, and void; and sobriety was upon the face of the world. And The Capybara, Our Lord and Savoir, walked upon the Volcano.

3 And The Capybara saw the glass, and that it was good: and The Capybara pulled the glass forth from The Volcano.

4 And The Capybara shaped the glass into a long bottle, and in it was Wine; and the Wine was the Light of All.

5 And The Capybara journeyed down the slopes of The Volcano, the Long Wine Bottle trailing behind to the mouth of The Volcano; And The Capybara brought Wine to The First Village.

6 Now The Long Wine Bottle wraps many times around the Earth, bringing joy and comfort to our people.

1 Dieter

1 There was a man sent from The Capybara, whose name was Dieter.

2 The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Long Wine Bottle, that all people through him might drink to celebrate or comfort themselves.

3 And the people asked him, What then? Art thou Juice? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that Soda-Pop? And he answered, No.

4 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? That we may give an answer to ourselves. What sayest thou of thyself?

5 He said, I am the voice of one crying in non euclidean geometries, warning of the conesnails, bringing the lightness of wine, and joining my brothers and sisters in merriment.

6 And then they knew him by his Sash; and they knew him to be poisonous but giving warning of it, and they knew him to also contain great mirth that would not harm them.

7 And further he spake: Shame not, lest ye be Shamed.

8 For with what Shame ye Shame, ye shall be Shamed: and with what glitter you throw, you shall be bathed.

9 Shame, Shame, Shame.

10 Beware of false prophets, which come to you without warning and without Sash, but inwardly they are Conesnails.

11 Ye shall know them by their venomous spines and elaborate shells and cone shapes.

12 Ye drinkers of wine and followers of The Capybara shall adorn yourselves with Sashes, and thus create covenant and family.

13 Your brothers and sisters shall be the Squid Cultists and knowable by their Robes. Drink, eat, and be merry with them.

14 Feed the wearers of Sash and of Robe. For those blessed by The Capybara may put all things on Pizza and create Chicken Goo.
