| 00:00:00 | Sound Effect | Transition | [Three gavel bangs.] |
|----------|--------------|------------|--|
| 00:00:02 | Jesse Thorn | Host | Welcome to the Judge John Hodgman podcast. I'm Bailiff Jesse Thorn. We're in chambers this week, clearing the docket with the clearest man in America, Judge John Hodgman. |
| 00:00:12 | John | Host | Not just the clearest. Also the docketest. |
| | Hodgman | | [Jesse laughs.] |
| | | | This might come out on or very near to February 29th, the magic day of Leap Year! What do you do on Leap Year, Jesse, to celebrate— [stifling laughter] an extra day of February? |
| 00:00:29 | Jesse | Host | What don't I do? [Laughs.] Is it really a magic day, John? |
| 00:00:33 | John | Host | It's a magic day because the hero of Pirates of Penzance was born on Leap Year. And what was his name? |
| 00:00:42 | Jesse | Host | Kevin Kline. |
| 00:00:43 | John | Host | No, not Kevin Kline. He was the Pirate King. That was my role. We're talking about Frederic, the young hero, played by Rex Smith in that movie. And that guy was born on February 29th, and that's why he thought that he had come of age and could leave his pirate indentures and get married and no longer be a pirate. But then it turned out he was born on Leap Year, so technically he was only 5, instead of 21. And that's how the pirates kept him! And they sang a song called "Paradox," and it was the subject of one of the most embarrassing moments of my life. |
| | | | Because when I met friend of Maximum Fun Lin-Manuel Miranda one time, I mentioned to him that I had played the Pirate King in Pirates of Penzance in Brookline High School. I didn't play Pirate King in the regular production in the school, I played it when we went down to Florida to sing at an off-brand Epcot stage. And I took over the role of Pirate King 'cause Ben Crawford had college tours that weekend. So we only sang a few songs from it. [Laughs quietly.] And I was good at it! I was like— |
| | | | [Singing] "For I am the pirate kiiing!" |
| | | | [Speaking] And I sang that bit. And then I forgot all about it. And then later that night, in the—[laughs] in the closed-down dining room of the courtyard Marriott in Times Square, where the McElroy Brothers and Lin-Manuel Miranda—those four fine friends and I were hanging out late. As I was leaving, Lin-Manuel Miranda started singing— |
| | | | [Singing] "A paradox, a paradox, a-buh-buh-buh-buh-bah-dah-bah!" |
| | | | [Speaking] As though I'm supposed to sing with him. I had no idea what he was singing. And he said "I played the Pirate King, too. I thought we were together in this." And I was so embarrassed. I couldn't sing along with Lin-Manuel Miranda. And I had to explain to him—I don't even think I could explain to him! I was like "You don't understand. I wasn't the Pirate King in the regular one. I was the Pirate King in the touring company. I didn't—I didn't sing that song." |

[Jesse laughs.]

As you can tell, it haunts me to this day. And that's what I think of when I think of Leap Year. I'm tr—honestly? I am like—I'm breaking out into a cold sweat right now! It was so embarrassing.

| | | | out into a cold sweat right now it was so embarrassing. |
|----------|-------|------|---|
| 00:02:46 | Jesse | Host | He's a really judgmental guy, Lin. [Laughs.] |
| 00:02:49 | John | Host | When he realized that I didn't know the words to the "Paradox" song, you know what he did? |
| 00:02:54 | Jesse | Host | What did he do? |
| 00:02:55 | John | Host | He spat in both of my eyes. Puh-tooey, puh-tooey! |
| 00:02:59 | Jesse | Host | That's what you get when you cross LMM. |
| 00:03:01 | John | Host | No, he was fine with everything. He's a happy, happy guy. He's a happy man. How are you, Jesse? I'm a happy man! I hope you are a happy man enough today! |
| 00:03:08 | Jesse | Host | I'm pretty happy because I took my kids to soccer practice yesterday. Which is a bit of a nightmare, because my youngest kid is three, just turned three. And this class is for three and up, but really this coach doesn't have any interest in keeping a three-year-old engaged, so I have to keep him engaged. |
| 00:03:26 | John | Host | Uh-huh, of course. |
| 00:03:27 | Jesse | Host | So it's just a lot of hard work. And it was cold outside, and whatever, you know? |
| 00:03:31 | John | Host | Yeah. |
| 00:03:32 | Jesse | Host | But then my three-year-old picked up the soccer ball, and looked up at the moon, which was just rising over the horizon. And he said "I'm throwing it at the moon!" [Laughing] And then he threw the ball at the moon. |
| 00:03:44 | John | Host | [Laughs.] That reminds me of one time a young friend of my younger son, when they were both about five, asked me to push him in the swing. And it's always awkward when it's not your child. Do you know what I mean? |
| 00:03:55 | Jesse | Host | Sure! |
| 00:03:56 | John | Host | The mom was around but, you know, wasn't there. I couldn't like, hand it off to the mom. She was on a call somewhere. So I'm like "I'll push you on the swing, but you know. Let's take it easy." |
| | | | And he goes "No, I want you to push me higher." |
| | | | I'm like "That's a little dangerous. I don't wanna push you very high." |
| | | | He goes "I want you to push me high so I can see the face of God." |
| | | | [Jesse cracks up.] |
| | | | You know what kids say? Some darned-up stuff! |
| | | | [Both laugh.] |
| 00:04:28 | Jesse | Host | Okay. Here's something from Nora about the correspondence sign- off "Hugs and Kisses" written with "X"s and "O"s. She asks: |
| | | | |

| | | | "Which is the hug? Which is the kiss? I insist the hug is the 'O,' because you're wrapping your arms around someone in a circle. The kiss is the 'X,' because a kissy sound can sound sort of like an 'X' sound. My husband says the 'X' is the hug, because when you hug someone you cross your arms behind their back, and your lips make a circle when you kiss. The Internet is split. Our eight-year-old sides with my husband. Our sons don't care. Please settle this, dear judge." |
|----------|-------|------|---|
| 00:05:06 | John | Host | I'm sorry, Nora, that your husband is incapable of Googling a thing. But I am very capable of Googling a thing, and thus I shall do it for thou. |
| | | | First of all Jesse. |
| 00:05:20 | Jesse | Host | Yeah, that's me. |
| 00:05:21 | John | Host | If you had to guess, without Googling, common sense guess. Would the "O"s be hugs or kisses? |
| 00:05:28 | Jesse | Host | Hugs! |
| 00:05:30 | John | Host | And would the "X"s be kisses or hugs? |
| 00:05:32 | Jesse | Host | Kisses!! |
| 00:05:33 | John | Host | Well. Here is what I found out when I did a simple Google search. I looked it up on the Urban Dictionary, and—ohhh my god, I cannot read that on the air. [Laughs.] Never mind. Forget you, Urban Dictionary, you're terrible. This is terrible stuff that teenagers come up with to make old people feel sad. |
| | | | [Jesse laughs.] |
| | | | Here's a tip for parents and kids. Don't look up things in the Urban Dictionary. |
| | | | [Jesse laughs.] |
| | | | Don't even look up the word "things," [stifles laughter] because a bunch of bad kids have gone on there and said dirty things for every phrase you can think of; it's something dirty. |
| | | | But there's nothing dirty about hugs and kisses, they're sweet! And what I discovered—doing a simple Google search that your husband could have done!—was that, first of all, A, yes, obviously , the circles are hugs and the "X"s are kisses. And the "X"s come directly from medieval tradition of signing letters with an "X," or putting an "X" on a letter as a symbol of Christian faith. And you would literally kiss that "X" in order to show that what you had written was true and from the | heart.

Also known as... SWAK! S-W-A-K. Sealed With A Kiss. Which was how Doughboys—not the podcasters, but the World War I soldiers would sign their letters to their sweethearts back home. Sealed With A Kiss.

One of the earliest notations of kisses comes from an 1894 letter from one person to his mother. According to the OED—that's the

| | | | Oxford English Dictionary—the first preferred citation is from an 1894 letter by a historic figure to his mother. "Please excuse bad writing, as I am in awful hurry. Many kisses, XXX. WSC." |
|--|--|------------------------------|--|
| | | | WSC of course standing for William S. Churchill! A man known for giving a lot of kisses. |
| 00:07:24 | Jesse | Host | Billy Church. |
| 00:07:26 | John | Host | That's right. You know what his middle name was? |
| 00:07:28 | Jesse | Host | [Stifling laughter] Just "S," like Harry S. Truman? |
| 00:07:31 | John | Host | "So Many Kisses." [Laughs quietly.] William "So Many Kisses" Churchill. |
| | | | And then the "O"s came later. No one really knows how "O"s became associated with hugs. But the first citation according to this Washington Post article I found dates to 1960. A letter from Mikey and Cheryl to Santa. "Dear Santa, how are you? I am fine." Classic opening gambit of any letter. And then a list of things that Mikey and Cheryl wanted. "Please. Love and kisses, XOXOXO, Davey, Mikey, and Cheryl." |
| | | | Sorry, I left out Davey there before. There was a little Davey erasure. I apologize. |
| | | | But yeah! That's the stories, Nora's husband! Obviously "X"s are kisses and "O"s are hugs! Stop coming up with a new system! Especially when it's so easy to find out—and interesting to find out—the history of this stuff! |
| | | | • |
| 00:08:17 | Sound Effect | Sound Effect | [Three gavel bangs.] |
| 00:08:17 00:08:18 | Sound Effect Jesse | Sound Effect Host | [Three gavel bangs.] I made up a little way to remember, a little mnemonic. Just imagine a fully diagramed football play. And you can remember that offensive players like to hug, and defensive players like to smooch. |
| | | | I made up a little way to remember, a little mnemonic. Just imagine a fully diagramed football play. And you can remember that offensive |
| 00:08:18 | Jesse | Host | I made up a little way to remember, a little mnemonic. Just imagine a fully diagramed football play. And you can remember that offensive players like to hug, and defensive players like to smooch. |
| 00:08:18 00:08:31 | Jesse John | Host Host | I made up a little way to remember, a little mnemonic. Just imagine a fully diagramed football play. And you can remember that offensive players like to hug, and defensive players like to smooch. I don't get it. |
| 00:08:18 00:08:31 00:08:32 | Jesse John Jesse | Host Host Host | I made up a little way to remember, a little mnemonic. Just imagine a fully diagramed football play. And you can remember that offensive players like to hug, and defensive players like to smooch. I don't get it. "X"s and "O"s, John. "X"s and "O"s. |
| 00:08:18 00:08:31 00:08:32 | Jesse John Jesse | Host Host Host | I made up a little way to remember, a little mnemonic. Just imagine a fully diagramed football play. And you can remember that offensive players like to hug, and defensive players like to smooch. I don't get it. "X"s and "O"s, John. "X"s and "O"s. Oh, tic-tac-toe. |
| 00:08:18 00:08:31 00:08:32 | Jesse John Jesse | Host Host Host | I made up a little way to remember, a little mnemonic. Just imagine a fully diagramed football play. And you can remember that offensive players like to hug, and defensive players like to smooch. I don't get it. "X"s and "O"s, John. "X"s and "O"s. Oh, tic-tac-toe. [Both laugh.] Jesse, you don't buy brandy a lot. 'Cause I would imagine it's |
| 00:08:18 00:08:31 00:08:32 00:08:35 | Jesse John Jesse John | Host Host Host | I made up a little way to remember, a little mnemonic. Just imagine a fully diagramed football play. And you can remember that offensive players like to hug, and defensive players like to smooch. I don't get it. "X"s and "O"s, John. "X"s and "O"s. Oh, tic-tac-toe. [Both laugh.] Jesse, you don't buy brandy a lot. 'Cause I would imagine it's probably a migraine trigger? |
| 00:08:18 00:08:31 00:08:32 00:08:35 | Jesse John John Jesse | Host Host Host | I made up a little way to remember, a little mnemonic. Just imagine a fully diagramed football play. And you can remember that offensive players like to hug, and defensive players like to smooch. I don't get it. "X"s and "O"s, John. "X"s and "O"s. Oh, tic-tac-toe. [Both laugh.] Jesse, you don't buy brandy a lot. 'Cause I would imagine it's probably a migraine trigger? Yeah—well, I just—I just don't drink. [Laughs.] Oh, right. [Laughs.] It's funny how I just presumed "Oh, he doesn't drink 'cause it's a migraine trigger." [Laughs.] My—it never occurred to me that it just might be your personal preference, but that's fine. People like what they like. I don't even like brandy that much! But I do know sometimes you get a brandy, and that it has the initials on it |
| 00:08:18 00:08:31 00:08:32 00:08:35 00:08:43 00:08:43 | Jesse John John Jesse John | Host Host Host Host | I made up a little way to remember, a little mnemonic. Just imagine a fully diagramed football play. And you can remember that offensive players like to hug, and defensive players like to smooch. I don't get it. "X"s and "O"s, John. "X"s and "O"s. Oh, tic-tac-toe. [Both laugh.] Jesse, you don't buy brandy a lot. 'Cause I would imagine it's probably a migraine trigger? Yeah—well, I just—I just don't drink. [Laughs.] Oh, right. [Laughs.] It's funny how I just presumed "Oh, he doesn't drink 'cause it's a migraine trigger." [Laughs.] My—it never occurred to me that it just might be your personal preference, but that's fine. People like what they like. I don't even like brandy that much! But I do know sometimes you get a brandy, and that it has the initials on it "XO." Do you know what the "XO" stands for? |

| 00:09:09 | John | Host | [Laughing] Yeah. |
|----------|-------|------|--|
| 00:09:10 | Jesse | Host | [Laughing] That's awesome. |
| 00:09:12 | John | Host | And I think that because "XO" is associated with sort of fine, luxury brandy, that kinda got back-channeled into a Hong Kong chili sauce called XO sauce. Which is a very pungent—and I think that this is— this is purely off the dome here. And so I'm not gonna Google it. I'll leave that to you, listeners at home, uh, who wish to send me letters about how wrong I am about this, including our dear listeners in Hong Kong. I hope you are doing okay. |
| | | | But XO sauce is a very pungent, I think sort of Szechuan peppery sauce, that just borrowed the "XO" off of the brandy to give it a little bit of a fancy kick. If you got brandy that is labeled "VSOP," do you know what that stands for? "VSOP"? |
| 00:09:56 | Jesse | Host | No. |
| 00:09:57 | John | Host | "Very Special Old Pale." |
| | | | [Jesse laughs.] |
| | | | But do you know what I call you , Jesse? Very Special Old Pal . |
| 00:10:04 | Jesse | Host | [Chuckling] Awww. Thank you, John. |
| 00:10:07 | John | Host | Yeah. You're VSOP in my book any day. |
| 00:10:09 | Jesse | Host | Here's something from Grayson: |
| | | | "When my friend purchases movie tickets for us, he'll deliberately tell me the incorrect start time for the movie. The incorrect time is usually 15 to 30 minutes early, but it has been as much as 45 minutes early. I'm not the kind of person to arrive late to movies. I like to see movies at the Alamo Drafthouse, for example, a theater that won't even let you enter if you arrive late. |
| | | | I ask you order my friend to give me the correct start time for all movies we see together. Additionally, in damages, I would like to receive one movie ticket to make up for the hour of personal time off I wasted in order to arrive, quote 'on time,' unquote, for Avengers: Endgame ." |
| 00:10:55 | John | Host | Ah, a little buzz-market for the Alamo Drafthouse. Which I don't mind! I'm glad they exist in this world. I'm glad for the Alamo Drafthouse. And I'm glad for the Nitehawk Theater here in Park Slope, which opened recently and is also a delightful place to go. And do you know why it's so delightful? Aside from the cleanliness, and the decency of the food, and the niceness of the servers, and the care they take in the curation of their films, and the comfort of the chairs, Jesse? |
| 00:11:20 | Jesse | Host | Why is that? |
| 00:11:21 | John | Host | You get to pre-reserve your seats. [Contented sigh.] Remember all the cold sweats I had from my Lin-Manuel Miranda story? |
| 00:11:28 | Jesse | Host | [Laughing] Yeah. |
| 00:11:29 | John | Host | I feel much better. |
| 00:11:30 | Jesse | Host | I like to go to the Highland Theatre in Los Angeles, California. It's |

| | | | three screens, it costs six bucks, and no matter what movie you're seeing there's gonna be three eight-year-olds in there. |
|----------|-------|------|---|
| 00:11:40 | John | Host | [Laughs.] Yeah! I mean, you know, going to the movies is the greatest. And whether you're going to three screen, six bucks, three eight-year-olds, or you're gonna pay some premium to go to a—sit in a fancy chair and have waiters walk back and forth in front of you while they bring everyone else tater tots, or whatever—please go to the movies! I'm so excited that there's a movie theater in my neighborhood now. I love the Alamo, which is a little ways away. I'm gonna give you a lifehack about that Alamo in a second. And I love the Nitehawk. |
| | | | And you probably have in your neighborhood as well—in lots of major cities now they have places where you can reserve seats ahead of time, which is like—even if I don't have tickets to the movies, I'm worried that I'm not gonna get a seat. Like, even if I don't have plans to see a movie, I'm like "Will I get a seat in that movie theater?" Now I know. And the most important thing about it is you don't have to arrive early! 'Cause you know that seat is reserved for you! |
| | | | So I don't know what Grayson's friend's problem is, other than he has John Hodgman Disease, which is perpetual worry that someone's gonna be late, and they're gonna cancel the movie, and everyone's gonna yell at us. |
| | | | When you go to the Highland, that's a not a reserved seating type of situation, right? |
| 00:12:46 | Jesse | Host | Absolutely not. John, it's so chill. |
| 00:12:49 | John | Host | It's not a first run house. Yeah. |
| 00:12:50 | Jesse | Host | It is a first run house. |
| 00:12:51 | John | Host | Oh, it is! |
| 00:12:52 | Jesse | Host | Which is one of the great things about it. It's rare to have a six-dollar first run house. You know, I'm not going to see Star Wars on opening day or whatever. |
| 00:13:01 | John | Host | No. |
| 00:13:02 | Jesse | Host | But I have never had the slightest concern about not getting a seat. It is no problem. The key is to focus on movie theaters that are just barely getting by. |
| 00:13:12 | John | Host | There are theaters where the vibe is just naturally chill, and the communities they service are naturally chill, and it doesn't matter. Or there are theaters like the Nitehawk and the Alamo that cater to people like Grayson's friend, who suffer from the John Hodgman Disease. [Stifles laughter.] Who are—who absolutely have to be on time and have their very special seat picked out for them, and are willing to pay a premium to do so. But either way, Grayson's friend, you don't have to live this way! And you definitely don't have to police your friend. |
| | | | Grayson's friend, you can relax in the knowledge that your friend will show up and that seat will be there for them if you are going to a reserved seating place. And indeed, if that friend shows up so late |

| | | | that they are not allowed admittance, then you get to not only enjoy a movie, but ride the crest of an incredible swell of self-congratulation. Which you—I bet you would enjoy. |
|----------|--------------|--------------|--|
| | | | But here's the thing I've gotta say to Grayson . Do you, uh, also not have the ability to Google a thing? Or even Bing a thing? |
| 00:14:14 | Jesse | Host | DuckDuckGo that thing, baby. |
| 00:14:16 | John | Host | Is that like the ProtonMail of search engines? Like if you use it, you're a good person, but if you use the other ones, you're bad and you're being tracked or whatever? |
| 00:14:23 | Jesse | Host | Yeah. |
| 00:14:24 | John | Host | DuckDuckGo. DuckDuckGo it, Grayson! You're in charge of the information that gets to you, you don't have to rely on your friend! Look up the time when the movie starts! It's hard to not know what time movie starts these days! You have to make an effort to not know what time your movie starts! |
| | | | Then Grayson's friend can say "The movie starts at 7:15 in the morning," and then you look it up on DuckDuckGo and you're like "No it doesn't, it starts at 7:15 PM. He wants me to get there 12 hours early! I'm gonna show up when it's the time to show up." You don't have to be pushed around by Grayson. |
| 00:14:55 | Sound Effect | Sound Effect | [Three gavel bangs.] |
| 00:14:56 | Jesse | Host | While you were talking I had a great business idea. |
| 00:14:58 | John | Host | I would like to hear it. |
| 00:15:00 | Jesse | Host | Airport lounges for movie theaters. So that the kind of people who show up really early for airplanes, and thus need to take advantage of airport lounges— |
| 00:15:09 | John | Host | [Stifling laughter] Uh-huh. |
| 00:15:10 | Jesse | Host | -can also show up really early for movie theaters. |
| 00:15:12 | John | Host | Well, that's what you can do at the Nitehawk or the Alamo! They have like a bar restaurant there where you can just hang out! Do you—Alamo's in a lot of cities now, right? |
| 00:15:20 | Jesse | Host | There's an Alamo Drafthouse in downtown Los Angeles. I'm much more likely to go to the ArcLight Cinema in Pasadena, California if I wanna spend $20 to see a movie. |
| | | | [Both laugh.] |
| 00:15:30 | John | Host | Yeah, right, no, I understand. |
| | | | Everyone loves a lifehack. And this is at least true about the Alamo Drafthouse in downtown Brooklyn, which is the one that I go to. The front row seats? Not only are they never taken, but also they are not too close to the screen at all . In fact, they're the perfect distance from the screen. And also, it's much easier for the servers to get at you without being disruptive as they bring you your truffle-butter popcorn and your fries, or whatever. And also they are recliners! Those front rows are full recliners! It's the best way to see a movie. |
| | | | That's all I'm huzz markating I'm carry |

That's all. I'm buzz-marketing. I'm sorry.

| 00:16:12 | Jesse | Host | Have anything to buzz-market about Avengers: Endgame? |
|--|--|--|---|
| 00:16:15 | John | Host | Robbed of Best Picture. By far. Should have been nominated five times. Loved it. Good job, Avengers: Endgame . |
| | | | You know, here's a little buzz-market! Our friend Chuck Bryant has the Movie Crush podcast, where he talks to people about their favorite movies. Go listen to the epic trilogy of podcasts of me and Chuck Bryant talking about Avengers, Avengers: Infinity War , and then Avengers: Endgame . You can hear all of my thoughts. |
| | | | I'm not a snob like Martin Scorsese; I like things. I get what Martin Scorsese is saying. But these things are more than just thrill-rides. They are a weirdly unique work of art that young John Hodgman, bobbing about in the ocean with Tim McGonagle, talking—dream-casting the X-Men movie circa 1982 could never have thought would ever be possible, that they would actually make a 20-year story arc across 3500 different movies. It was just—[sighs]. Are you gonna give that statuette to Joker ?! Come on. Come on, culture! |
| | | | |
| | | | Anyway, that's what I had to say about that, Jesse. |
| 00:17:17 | Jesse | Host | Anyway, that's what I had to say about that, Jesse. I watched Avengers . I wasn't nuts about it. |
| 00:17:17 00:17:19 | Jesse John | Host Host | |
| | John | | I watched Avengers. I wasn't nuts about it. |
| 00:17:19 | John | Host | I watched Avengers . I wasn't nuts about it. No, it's not for everybody! I liked that Spider-Man . Spider-Man , cartoon Spider-Man , starring |
| 00:17:19 00:17:20 | John Jesse | Host Host | I watched Avengers . I wasn't nuts about it. No, it's not for everybody! I liked that Spider-Man . Spider-Man , cartoon Spider-Man , starring Spider-Ham! With John Mulaney. |
| 00:17:19 00:17:20 00:17:28 | John Jesse John | Host Host Host | I watched Avengers . I wasn't nuts about it. No, it's not for everybody! I liked that Spider-Man . Spider-Man , cartoon Spider-Man , starring Spider-Ham! With John Mulaney. Oh, you're talking about Spider-Man: Into the Spider-Verse . |
| 00:17:19 00:17:20 00:17:28 00:17:30 | John Jesse John Jesse John | Host Host Host Host | I watched Avengers . I wasn't nuts about it. No, it's not for everybody! I liked that Spider-Man . Spider-Man , cartoon Spider-Man , starring Spider-Ham! With John Mulaney. Oh, you're talking about Spider-Man: Into the Spider-Verse . Loved it. |
| 00:17:19 00:17:20 00:17:28 00:17:30 00:17:31 | John Jesse John Jesse John | Host Host Host Host | I watched Avengers . I wasn't nuts about it. No, it's not for everybody! I liked that Spider-Man . Spider-Man , cartoon Spider-Man , starring Spider-Ham! With John Mulaney. Oh, you're talking about Spider-Man: Into the Spider-Verse . Loved it. I believe it won an Oscar award, which is pretty big. |
| 00:17:19 00:17:20 00:17:28 00:17:30 00:17:31 00:17:34 | John Jesse John Jesse John Jesse John | Host Host Host Host Host | I watched Avengers . I wasn't nuts about it. No, it's not for everybody! I liked that Spider-Man . Spider-Man , cartoon Spider-Man , starring Spider-Ham! With John Mulaney. Oh, you're talking about Spider-Man: Into the Spider-Verse . Loved it. I believe it won an Oscar award, which is pretty big. Yeah. |
| 00:17:19 00:17:20 00:17:28 00:17:30 00:17:31 00:17:34 00:17:35 | John Jesse John Jesse John Jesse John Jesse | Host Host Host Host Host Host | I watched Avengers. I wasn't nuts about it. No, it's not for everybody! I liked that Spider-Man. Spider-Man , cartoon Spider-Man , starring Spider-Ham! With John Mulaney. Oh, you're talking about Spider-Man: Into the Spider-Verse . Loved it. I believe it won an Oscar award, which is pretty big. Yeah. And deservedly so, what a work of art. |

Did I ever tell you about when I took our son to see Joker? He really wanted to see Joker, and... uh, I didn't. But what are you gonna do? So we went to go see it. And it was at the Alamo, in fact! And they showed the trailer for the two movies that Joker quite openly rips off, King of Comedy and Taxi Driver, right before Joker. And I don't know what he made of King of Comedy, but after he saw the trailer for Taxi Driver my son—who is 14—leans over to me in the theater and goes "Why have you never showed me that movie?"

[Laughs quietly.] I'm like "Yeah! I... have good reasons, for not showing you Taxi Driver before the age of 14. But yeah! That's the real thing! Martin Scorsese knows what he's doing! This whole movie you're about to see is just a pretend of that!"

And then they asked me to be quiet in the theater.

[Jesse laughs.]

Movies! Gotta love 'em.

| 00:18:38 | Jesse | Host | Let's take a quick break. More items on the docket coming up in just a minute on the Judge John Hodgman podcast. |
|----------|--------------|------------|---|
| 00:18:44 | Sound Effect | Transition | [Three gavel bangs.] |
| 00:18:46 | Promo | Clip | Music: Classical orchestral music. |
| | | | John Hodgman: Hey, everyone! It's I, John Hodgman of the Judge John Hodgman podcast. |
| | | | Elliott Kalan: And I, Elliott Kalan of the Flop House podcast. |
| | | | John: And we've made a whole new podcast! A 12-episode special miniseries called I, Podius . In which we recap, discuss, and explore the very famous 1976 BBC miniseries about Ancient Rome called I, Claudius ! We've got incredible guests such as Gillian Jacobs, Paul F. Tompkins, as well as star of I, Claudius Sir Patrick Stewart! And his son! Non-Sir Daniel Stewart. |
| | | | Elliott: Don't worry, Dan, you'll get there someday. |
| | | | John: I, Podius is the name of the show! Every week from MaximumFun.org for only 12 weeks. Get 'em at MaximumFun.org, or wherever you get your podcasts. |
| | | | [Music fades out.] |
| 00:19:31 | Sound Effect | Transition | [Three gavel bangs.] |
| 00:19:32 | Jesse | Host | Welcome back to the Judge John Hodgman podcast. We're clearing the docket this week. Michael says: |
| | | | "When leaving the grocery store with two or fewer bags, my fiancée either leaves the cart near the exit, or she walks it back to the entrance. She thinks this saves the staff time from having to walk to the parking lot in order to retrieve the cart. |
| | | | I believe that as a shopper, you're expected to walk with the cart back to your car, then place the cart into the cart return vestibules provided by the store. Returning the cart anywhere else causes unnecessary work for the staff, and crowding near the entrance and exit. |
| | | | I'm seeking an order from Judge John Hodgman to forbid my fiancée from guilt-tripping me when I push a 12-pack of La Croix back to my car in a shopping cart, and insist only that she guilt-trip me for my addiction to La Croix." |
| 00:20:22 | John | Host | I like La Croix. But doesn't it make you thirstier? Haven't we figured that out? Isn't there a chemical in there? [Stifles laughter.] Makes you even thirstier? |
| 00:20:29 | Jesse | Host | Eh, it could be. I got one of those bubble machines, but I'm perfectly glad to drink Safeway Select Seltzer. |
| 00:20:36 | John | Host | l love seltzer so much. |
| 00:20:38 | Jesse | Host | We mentioned that I don't drink on the show. [Stifling laughter] One of the reasons is because my dad took me to a lot of AA meetings when I was a little kid. |

| 00:20:44 | John | Host | Sure. |
|----------|-------|------|---|
| 00:20:45 | Jesse | Host | And one of the results of my dad being in recovery when I was a child was he always drank club soda. He drank club soda all the time. He always had a giant two-liter bottle of store-brand club soda in the refrigerator. Even in the times when, you know, food was not—I was never hungry, but when food was not plentiful in our house. [Laughs.] |
| 00:21:07 | John | Host | Mm-hm. Mm-hm. |
| 00:21:08 | Jesse | Host | And I love. I love it, I love it, I love it forever. I also love my dad used to have—you know how the kind of fancy apple juice that comes in a glass jar instead of a plastic jar? |
| 00:21:18 | John | Host | Oh, yeah, sure! I'll say the name, Martinelli's. |
| 00:21:21 | Jesse | Host | Not the apple-shaped jar, just a regular glass jar. |
| 00:21:25 | John | Host | Oh, okay, sure. Yeah, yeah, yeah. |
| 00:21:27 | Jesse | Host | He used to have one of those jars that had long lost its top. And it was always full of water, and it was always in the fridge. And now I can never drink tepid water. [Laughs quietly.] |
| 00:21:37 | John | Host | No, you need to have cold water! |
| 00:21:38 | Jesse | Host | I want that cold fridge water! Just like it came outta that—[stifles laughter] re-used apple juice bottle. That didn't have a lid. [Laughs.] For years! For years , this bottle with no lid! [Laughing] Just soaking up all the flavors of the refrigerator. |
| 00:21:55 | John | Host | I get that for some people, seltzer, club soda, sparkling water, whatever you wanna call it, is, as my children used to call it, "too spicy." |
| | | | [Both laugh.] |
| 00:22:05 | Jesse | Host | Yeah. |
| 00:22:06 | John | Host | I get it. And I know that people like what they like. But when I have occasion to go out to dinner, and the waitstaff says "Still or sparkling water?" and the person with me says "Still" I'm like "Didn't you just hear that they offered sparkling?" |
| 00:22:16 | Jesse | Host | [Laughs.] That's adventure water! |
| 00:22:18 | John | Host | Yeah! It's the best! It's like a—it's a party in your mouth! And carbonation is a more effective palate cleanser between courses. So you can eat your food and then you can drink some seltzer water, and it resets your mouth for the next piece of food you're gonna put in there. |
| | | | Too much talking about putting food in mouths. That's gross. But seltzer? Not gross. |
| 00:22:39 | Jesse | Host | What about shopping carts, John? |
| 00:22:41 | John | Host | I don't often order them at restaurants. I'm not sure what the point is. |
| | | | [Both laugh quietly.] |
| 00:22:47 | Jesse | Host | A basket's plenty. |
| 00:22:49 | John | Host | [Laughs.] Yeah. Well, a basket is plenty for sure here in New York. We don't have a lot of shopping carts in New York. But you know, | when I'm up in the commonwealth of Massachusetts, or in the state of Maine, they have big old supermarkets with big old, uh, whatchamacallit—or if I'm driving up to MaxFunCon, and I stop at the Jensen's in Blue Jay, California—my favorite supermarket of all time—that is a traditional straight-aisle old-fashioned supermarket, and they have shopping carts and a parking lot...

Yeah. It really depends on where I am in the lot! I'll either put it in the—what did Michael call it? Receptacle? Vestibule. Cart return vestibule. Good vocabulary for a guy who's got a bad system.

[Jesse laughs.]

No! His system is good! What am I talking about? And it's fine to return them to the vestibules. That's what they're for. But his contempt for his fiancée walking the cart back is inexplicable to me. His comment here, "She thinks this saves the staff time." Yeah! It does save the staff time! It means fewer carts to bring back to the store! I don't get what his problem is. Can you be a devil's advocate, like a Keanu Reeves' son?

| | | | [Both laugh quietly.] |
|----------|-------|------|---|
| 00:23:59 | Jesse | Host | I can. I can. |
| 00:24:01 | John | Host | Okay. Please. |
| 00:24:02 | Jesse | Host | I think this is the situation. He is describing her not always returning it to the cart return area or the cart dispensing area at the front of the supermarket. |
| 00:24:12 | John | Host | Ohhh. |
| 00:24:13 | Jesse | Host | But rather just returning it to the general area by the doors. |
| 00:24:18 | John | Host | Oh no, that's no good. That's true. |
| 00:24:20 | Jesse | Host | Often there's one side of the supermarket that is the entrance side, and that will have all the carts, and there's one side that's the exit side. And if she's leaving it in between the two of them or leaving it over by the exit door, I can kind of understand where he's coming from. I would also suggest that it's not a significant savings of time for the person who is wrangling the carts because, you know, this is the 21st century. They've got one of those cool cart-pushing snowmobiles. |
| | | | [Both laugh.] |
| | | | With the special hook rope that ties a thousand carts together and you push them all en masse, and— |
| 00:25:00 | John | Host | You talking about a cart Zamboni? |
| 00:25:01 | Jesse | Host | Yeah, exactly. Forty-nine carts moves the same as fifty carts, generally speaking. But I am with you, broadly, that I have no contempt for this woman returning the cart if she's actually returning it to the place where the carts are dispensed, yeah. |
| 00:25:16 | John | Host | If she's gonna do the job that the other person would have done, and finish the job. That's the thing, Michael's Fiancée. Finish the job. Don't get it part of the way there. Don't do half the job, or even four |

| | | | fifths of the job, and leave it out by the doors. Bring it in and put it with the rest of the carts. That's what I say. |
|----------|--------------|--------------|---|
| 00:25:34 | Sound Effect | Sound Effect | [Three gavel bangs.] |
| 00:25:35 | Jesse | Host | Yeah. The real contempt is for people who leave their carts rolling around the parking lot, [stifling laughter] denting people's cars and taking up parking spaces. |
| 00:25:45 | John | Host | Yeah, willy-nilly. As it were. Willy-nilly. My hat goes off to the young man who collects the carts—and I see him every summer up there at the Tradewinds in Blue Hill, Maine—who's collecting those carts and just rocking it. Just grabbing those carts out of that return vestibule and rocking it up there. And you know what? He's only got one arm. And he's incredible . Keep it up, that kid. Just to borrow a phrase from a podcast I like. |
| 00:26:14 | Jesse | Host | Wait, am I—am I supposed to also be plugging my favorite grocery store, the Town & Country Market in Porterville, California? It's a dream! And it has its own gas station. |
| 00:26:23 | John | Host | Well, that's the classic combo that you don't see often enough, though. |
| 00:26:27 | Jesse | Host | This is a market—it is gargantuan . All straight aisles. Every food you could possibly imagine. It has every international food alongside every food from [stifling laughter] the Brady Bunch. |
| 00:26:43 | John | Host | Yeah. Yes! |
| 00:26:44 | Jesse | Host | It has not been updated since 1970, if that. |
| 00:26:49 | John | Host | I can picture it! |
| 00:26:51 | Jesse | Host | And there it is, right in the heart of California's Central Valley, the breadbasket of the United States, so it's got lots of great fruits and vegetables! |
| 00:26:59 | John | Host | I can picture it, because it sounds like the identical twin of Jensen's, my favorite grocery store. Which is in—as I say, in Blue Jay, California, on the way up to the MaxFunCon on Lake Arrowhead, up there in the San Bernardino Mountains. And it, too, is like—it looks exactly like a grocery store that I might have gone to in 1981, as a kid. The aisles are straight. And they are packed with food, and as you pointed out, it is all of the Brady Bunch food, [stifles laughter] all the old brands and all the new brands. And they're so perfectly—like, it really speaks to my particular mania of a place for everything and everything in its place. |
| | | | And if you wanna get a sense of what Jensen's is all about, go back into my Instagram feed—johnhodgman, my personal feed, not judgejohnhodgman the show feed, which you should also subscribe to, but johnhodgman, the personal feed of me, John Hodgman. |
| | | | Any June, going back ten years, you will find dozens of pictures as I stop there to go up to—before going up to MaxFunCon—you will find dozens of pictures of cans of beans, from me, taking pictures of just stuff in the supermarket that I love. And one time I got stopped by a woman in there, 'cause I was just taking all these pictures in the Jensen's, of these weird off-brand cans of lard and stuff, just amazing product packaging I'd never seen, and I love. |

| | | | And she said "What are you doing?" And I said "I'm just taking a picture of a grocery store that I love, Ma'am. Why?" And she said "My husband owns this store." And I said "Thank you for your service." She said "I wish you wouldn't take pictures here. We're gonna be updating the look of the store soon. It's very dated." |
|----------|-------|------|---|
| | | | I figuratively got on my knees and begged her not to change a thing about the store. And so far they haven't. Jensen's. What's the name of your place, Town & Country? |
| 00:28:49 | Jesse | Host | Town & Country. Porterville, California. |
| | | | Here's something from Meg. She asks: |
| | | | "When is the appropriate time to throw out a birthday cake? I threw out my spouse's birthday cake two days after his birthday, and got in hot water. I made a second birthday cake, and he waited until mold grew on the cake to throw it away. Please tell him he's wrong." |
| | | | [Both laugh.] |
| 00:29:11 | John | Host | Did she throw the birthday cake into hot water? |
| | | | [Jesse laughs.] |
| | | | Did she just fill up the sink with hot water and toss it in there? [Laughs.] |
| 00:29:17 | Jesse | Host | Fun. |
| 00:29:18 | John | Host | I'm kinda the wrong person to ask, 'cause I don't care for cake! Like, I feel like the time to throw away birthday cake is before it gets to the table. |
| 00:29:25 | Jesse | Host | Yeah, replace it with a birthday pie. |
| 00:29:27 | John | Host | [Revelatory] Birthday piiie! |
| 00:29:30 | Jesse | Host | John, I can't eat chocolate, because that is a migraine trigger. [Stifling laughter] And because my dad was a choc—is a recovering chocoholic. |
| | | | [Both laugh.] |
| | | | I can't eat chocolate because it's a migraine trigger, and so cake is just an absolute wasteland to me. I don't know if people know this, but red velvet cake is just chocolate cake that's colored red. [Laughs.] |
| 00:29:55 | John | Host | I did not know that. |
| 00:29:57 | Jesse | Host | Yeah. And so I'm really left with like, yellow cake, and, you know, white cake. The most beautiful, elegantly made cake in the world to me is a sixOutta ten. |
| 00:30:12 | John | Host | Oh. |
| 00:30:13 | Jesse | Host | You know what I mean? I gotta be honest. The next category of cake is like, box cake, grocery store cake, that's a five. I mean— |
| 00:30:21 | John | Host | Right. |
| 00:30:22 | Jesse | Host | I'm not-the cake isn't horrible! It's-what it is, what it is. |

| ost | And people love it. |
|-----|--|
| | Why would you love it? That's the thing. If I could eat a chocolate cake with chocolate icing on it, you know, that tastes like something—chocolate icing to me is much more palatable than vanilla icing, which I'm just like "Why am I not eating ice cream right now?" |
| ost | Right. |
| | And you know, you put ice cream on it, that helps. But I'm married to a beautiful cake hoarder! |
| ost | Yeah. People love cake. There are people who love it. |
| | My wife will take home cake from any birthday party where cake is being offered. You know how there's always way too much cake, and then at the end of the birthday party, like, "Who wants to take home some cake?" My wife will take it home. |
| ost | Yeah. |
| | My wife'll keep our children's birthday cakes for weeks on end. But you know what? She eats 'em. She just knocks 'em back a little bit at a time. She just puts in her work and gets it taken care of. It's the only leftovers she eats, as far as I know. [Laughs quietly.] |
| ost | Well, Theresa Thorn knows how to live. |
| ost | She does. She's a wonderful woman. |
| | She knows what she likes, she likes what she likes, and she takes care of it. Unlike Meg's spouse, who is a cake hoarder but doesn't eat it. Just lets it mold. |
| | A refrigerator is a desiccant. So unless your cake is sealed , it is going to dry out pretty quickly. And that is the quality of a bad cake! |
| | Jesse, let's do a thought experiment. What kind of pie would you like for your birthday? |
| ost | I'd like a cherry pie. Do we have ice cream? |
| ost | Of course. We are à la mode. |
| | Okay, then yes, I'd like a cherry pie. Otherwise I was thinking about maybe like a cream pie of some kind, like a banana cream pie or something. But if there is ice cream, I'm gonna go with a cherry pie. |
| ost | A banana cream pie |
| | Banana cream pies are really good. [Laughs.] When you can't eat chocolate, you really start to appreciate banana and caramel. [Laughs.] |
| | Let's say for the sake of argument—for the pleasure of my mind image—that I have gotten you a banana cream pie. I have sent you a banana cream pie. Which is the most popular Internet banana cream pie company? |
| | [Jesse laughs.] |
| | Is it Casper? Or Lisa? |
| | [Both laugh.] |
| | ost ost ost ost ost ost ost ost ost ost |

| 00:32:38 | Jesse | Host | I'm trying to remember what show I've seen the pies on, but I think it's Acme Corporation. [Laughs.] |
|----------------------|-----------------------|----------------------|--|
| 00:32:42 | John | Host | [Stifles laughter.] Sure! |
| | | | Look. It's simple. You sign up, you just give them your email address. You sign up for a banana cream pie subscription. With order code "Judge John," you get 15% off of your first twenty-five banana cream pies. Twenty-five banana cream pies sent to your door in our eco-friendly packaging, once a month, every month; you cannot ever cancel your subscription. It's just that simple. |
| | | | Okay. So I send you a banana cream pie for your birthday. And you have yourself a big old slice or two on your birthday. And then two days later, Theresa Thorn goes "This isn't cake. This is disgusting pie" and throws it away. Two days after your birthday. Birthday plus two. Are you mad? Sad? Neutral? Fine? Secretly pleased? What? |
| 00:33:33 | Jesse | Host | I would be pretty sad. That said desiccation is not a concern with a cream pie. |
| 00:33:39 | John | Host | No, but you could wrap up a cake properly. I guess I'm saying the birthday person really gets to say when that cake gets tossed. |
| 00:33:46 | Jesse | Host | Who has ever put a—wrapped up a cake properly?! |
| 00:33:49 | John | Host | There's certain kinds of ways to do it. |
| 00:33:52 | Jesse | Host | People just put it in the refrigerator in that big pink paper box. |
| | | | [John laughs.] |
| | | | |
| | | | That doesn't seal, John! |
| 00:33:59 | John | Host | That doesn't seal, John! Yeah. But I mean, I would say that somewhere between two days and mold is the appropriate time for keeping a birthday cake. And that generally speaking the birthday person gets to decide between two days and mold. |
| 00:33:59 00:34:12 | | | Yeah. But I mean, I would say that somewhere between two days and mold is the appropriate time for keeping a birthday cake. And that generally speaking the birthday person gets to decide between |
| | | | Yeah. But I mean, I would say that somewhere between two days and mold is the appropriate time for keeping a birthday cake. And that generally speaking the birthday person gets to decide between two days and mold. |
| 00:34:12 | Sound Effect | Sound Effect | Yeah. But I mean, I would say that somewhere between two days and mold is the appropriate time for keeping a birthday cake. And that generally speaking the birthday person gets to decide between two days and mold. [Three gavel bangs.] Yeah, it seems like more than like, five days, you're no longer storing |
| 00:34:12 00:34:13 | Sound Effect Jesse | Sound Effect Host | Yeah. But I mean, I would say that somewhere between two days and mold is the appropriate time for keeping a birthday cake. And that generally speaking the birthday person gets to decide between two days and mold. [Three gavel bangs.] Yeah, it seems like more than like, five days, you're no longer storing a cake; you're starting to store a husk. Yeah, that's pretty true about anything . I mean, with the exception of some obvious preserves. Five days of fresh food? It's probably like, |
| 00:34:12 00:34:13 | Sound Effect Jesse | Sound Effect Host | Yeah. But I mean, I would say that somewhere between two days and mold is the appropriate time for keeping a birthday cake. And that generally speaking the birthday person gets to decide between two days and mold. [Three gavel bangs.] Yeah, it seems like more than like, five days, you're no longer storing a cake; you're starting to store a husk. Yeah, that's pretty true about anything . I mean, with the exception of some obvious preserves. Five days of fresh food? It's probably like, time to eat it or for-geet it (forget it). |
| 00:34:12 00:34:13 | Sound Effect Jesse | Sound Effect Host | Yeah. But I mean, I would say that somewhere between two days and mold is the appropriate time for keeping a birthday cake. And that generally speaking the birthday person gets to decide between two days and mold. [Three gavel bangs.] Yeah, it seems like more than like, five days, you're no longer storing a cake; you're starting to store a husk. Yeah, that's pretty true about anything . I mean, with the exception of some obvious preserves. Five days of fresh food? It's probably like, time to eat it or for-geet it (forget it). [Jesse laughs.] Two—one more thing about pies, that makes them better than cakes, that I thought about. When you pointed out that Theresa is a cake hoarder. Where can you hoard that cake? Where do you hoard |
| 00:34:12 00:34:13 | Sound Effect Jesse | Sound Effect Host | Yeah. But I mean, I would say that somewhere between two days and mold is the appropriate time for keeping a birthday cake. And that generally speaking the birthday person gets to decide between two days and mold. [Three gavel bangs.] Yeah, it seems like more than like, five days, you're no longer storing a cake; you're starting to store a husk. Yeah, that's pretty true about anything . I mean, with the exception of some obvious preserves. Five days of fresh food? It's probably like, time to eat it or for-geet it (forget it). [Jesse laughs.] Two—one more thing about pies, that makes them better than cakes, that I thought about. When you pointed out that Theresa is a cake hoarder. Where can you hoard that cake? Where do you hoard it, Jesse? |
| 00:34:12 00:34:13 | Sound Effect Jesse | Sound Effect Host | Yeah. But I mean, I would say that somewhere between two days and mold is the appropriate time for keeping a birthday cake. And that generally speaking the birthday person gets to decide between two days and mold. [Three gavel bangs.] Yeah, it seems like more than like, five days, you're no longer storing a cake; you're starting to store a husk. Yeah, that's pretty true about anything . I mean, with the exception of some obvious preserves. Five days of fresh food? It's probably like, time to eat it or for-geet it (forget it). [Jesse laughs.] Two—one more thing about pies, that makes them better than cakes, that I thought about. When you pointed out that Theresa is a cake hoarder. Where can you hoard that cake? Where do you hoard it, Jesse? [Beat.] |

| | | | there something known as a pie safe? Yes! A pie safe, if you don't know, is a cupboard—a very traditional, old-timey kitchen cupboard—that has pressed tin that has holes punctured in it, often in a decorate way, and that's where you put your fresh-baked pies in to cool without people or critters getting in at them. And it's called a pie safe, one of the great names for a piece of furniture ever . |
|----------|--------------|------------|--|
| | | | Another thing that I learned using the Internet. You guys, get to know this Internet! If you have a question about how—whether the "X"s are kisses or "O"s are hugs or whatever, look it up! It's fun to learn things! Pie safe |
| | | | Banana cream pies for Jesse's birthday, and for my birthday, how about you just get me a classic mold cake? Which is to say a wheel of Stilton cheese. |
| 00:35:50 | Jesse | Host | [Laughs.] Let's take a quick break. When we come back we'll hear a case about cozy attire, and a listener letter with a condiment-based cake recipe! |
| 00:36:02 | John | Host | Ohhh! Right! Back to cake. |
| 00:36:04 | Sound Effect | Transition | [Three gavel bangs.] |
| 00:36:06 | Promo | Clip | Music: Upbeat, cheerful music plays in the background. |
| | | | Allie Goertz: Hi, I'm Allie Goertz! |
| | | | Julia Prescott: And I'm Julia Prescott. And we host— |
| | | | |
| | | | Both: — Round Springfield ! |
| | | | Both: — Round Springfield ! Julia: Round Springfield is a new Simpsons podcast that is Simpsons- adjacent — |
| | | | Julia: Round Springfield is a new Simpsons podcast that is |
| | | | Julia: Round Springfield is a new Simpsons podcast that is Simpsons - adjacent — |
| | | | Julia: Round Springfield is a new Simpsons podcast that is Simpsons-adjacent— Allie: Mm-hm. Julia: —um, in its topic. We talk to Simpsons writers, directors, voiceover actors, you name it, about non-Simpsons things that |
| | | | Julia: Round Springfield is a new Simpsons podcast that is Simpsons-adjacent— Allie: Mm-hm. Julia: —um, in its topic. We talk to Simpsons writers, directors, voiceover actors, you name it, about non-Simpsons things that they've done. Because, surprise! They're all extremely talented. Allie: Absolutely. For example, David X. Cohen worked on The |
| | | | Julia: Round Springfield is a new Simpsons podcast that is Simpsons-adjacent— Allie: Mm-hm. Julia: —um, in its topic. We talk to Simpsons writers, directors, voiceover actors, you name it, about non-Simpsons things that they've done. Because, surprise! They're all extremely talented. Allie: Absolutely. For example, David X. Cohen worked on The Simpsons, but then created a little show called Futurama! |
| | | | Julia: Round Springfield is a new Simpsons podcast that is Simpsons-adjacent— Allie: Mm-hm. Julia: —um, in its topic. We talk to Simpsons writers, directors, voiceover actors, you name it, about non-Simpsons things that they've done. Because, surprise! They're all extremely talented. Allie: Absolutely. For example, David X. Cohen worked on The Simpsons, but then created a little show called Futurama! Julia: Mm-hm! |
| | | | Julia: Round Springfield is a new Simpsons podcast that is Simpsons-adjacent— Allie: Mm-hm. Julia: —um, in its topic. We talk to Simpsons writers, directors, voiceover actors, you name it, about non-Simpsons things that they've done. Because, surprise! They're all extremely talented. Allie: Absolutely. For example, David X. Cohen worked on The Simpsons, but then created a little show called Futurama! Julia: Mm-hm! Allie: That's our very first episode. |
| | | | Julia: Round Springfield is a new Simpsons podcast that is Simpsons-adjacent— Allie: Mm-hm. Julia: —um, in its topic. We talk to Simpsons writers, directors, voiceover actors, you name it, about non-Simpsons things that they've done. Because, surprise! They're all extremely talented. Allie: Absolutely. For example, David X. Cohen worked on The Simpsons, but then created a little show called Futurama! Julia: Mm-hm! Allie: That's our very first episode. Julia: Yeah! Allie: So tune in for stuff like that with Yeardley Smith, with Tim Long, with different writers and voice actors. It's gonna be so much fun, and we are every other week on MaximumFun.org or wherever you |
| 00:36:48 | Sound Effect | Transition | Julia: Round Springfield is a new Simpsons podcast that is Simpsons-adjacent— Allie: Mm-hm. Julia: —um, in its topic. We talk to Simpsons writers, directors, voiceover actors, you name it, about non-Simpsons things that they've done. Because, surprise! They're all extremely talented. Allie: Absolutely. For example, David X. Cohen worked on The Simpsons, but then created a little show called Futurama! Julia: Mm-hm! Allie: That's our very first episode. Julia: Yeah! Allie: So tune in for stuff like that with Yeardley Smith, with Tim Long, with different writers and voice actors. It's gonna be so much fun, and we are every other week on MaximumFun.org or wherever you get your podcasts! |

| 00:36:49 | Jesse | Host | Welcome back to the Judge John Hodgman podcast. This week we're clearing the docket, and we have something from Ben: |
|----------|-------|------|--|
| | | | "My wife and I each own a Lippi Selk'bag." |
| 00:36:59 | John | Host | What? |
| 00:37:01 | Jesse | Host | I'm looking at a picture of this item. [Stifles laughter.] It appears to be a wearable sleeping bag with arms and legs. And a hood. |
| 00:37:09 | John | Host | Ugh. [Sighs, laughs.] Okay. Yep. And so here's an adorable picture of them, Ben and his wife. We'll put this on the show page at MaximumFun.org , and on our Instagram as well, judgejohnhodgman on Instagram. Go on. |
| 00:37:20 | Jesse | Host | "Sometimes in the fall, we like to build a fire in our backyard fire pit and invite friends over to hang out. When it's chilly, our Selk'bags are perfect fire attire. However, my wife refuses to wear her Selk'bag if people are coming over. She thinks it's rude to wear something so obviously cozy when we're not providing equal coziness for our guests. |
| | | | This seems unnecessarily conscientious to me. People who are coming over know how to look up what temperature it's gonna be and plan their dress accordingly. Why shouldn't we wear our Selk'bags if we have them? Am I a monster, thinking this way?" |
| | | | Well, you do literally look like a monster in this Selk'bag. |
| | | | [Both laugh quietly.] |
| 00:38:00 | John | Host | Yeah, you look like a stand-up Muppet, dude! [Laughs.] |
| 00:38:02 | Jesse | Host | One— |
| 00:38:03 | John | Host | You look like Sweetums, almost! A pink Sweetums! |
| 00:38:06 | Jesse | Host | You're one rubber mask away from being a Japanese kaiju. |
| 00:38:10 | John | Host | [Cracks up.] |
| | | | First of all, along with Banana Cream Pie—which is the Internet's most famous online banana cream pie company, our presenting sponsor—apparently are these Selk'bags! These grown-up footie pajamas. They're high quality, and they make you look like a kaiju! |
| | | | I think the situation here is, Ben your wife is pretending that it is inconsiderate to wear your amazing, cool, cozy Selk'bags, and that it will somehow make her guests feel bad that they don't get to have their own cozy, cool Selk'bags, which are basically the REI version of Snuggies. But in fact maybe your wife is a little embarrassed by your grown-up pajamas. |
| | | | Right, Jesse? That's my instinct here. I mean, the two of you sitting out by the fire together in your matching hilarious wearable sleeping bags? That's adorable. But maybe when friends are over, she doesn't want to be seen in this obviously almost silly-looking fashion of pure surrender to comfort. Maybe she wants to wear some nicer outdoorsy clothes when guests are around. |
| 00:39:37 | Jesse | Host | I think that while my overall top position on this is that it's |

| | | | inappropriate to wear these in public |
|----------|--------------|--------------|---|
| 00:39:46 | John | Host | Mm-hm. |
| 00:39:47 | Jesse | Host | [Laughs.] Uh, and that's why I would be embarrassed. |
| 00:39:51 | John | Host | Mm-hm, mm-hm. |
| 00:39:52 | Jesse | Host | I think I sympathize with the wife's position. It does feel like you are inviting someone to your home to participate in a homey activity that's about coziness. "This is how we do it, but we are not inviting you to participate in it the way that we do it." |
| 00:40:16 | John | Host | I agree. It may not merely be that she's sparing his feelings, and not letting him know that they kinda look like doofuses in these things. That it might actually be good host/hostessing to not flaunt your giant 1981-style, like, child snowsuit made in adult sizes. [Laughs quietly.] |
| | | | But if that were the case, why wouldn't she just get a few for guests? You know what I mean? Like, just go over to [stifles laughter] SelkbagUSA.com, enter in the code word "Judge John—" |
| | | | [Jesse laughs.] |
| | | | —and right there, for 20 to 40% off in their sales section, you have a wide variety of different colors of giant full-body down-stuffed diapers for your guests. [Laughs quietly.] That you can wrap your friends up in in front of the fire. Get some guest Selk'bags! If you're gonna take over my podcast and make me advertise for them for no money. |
| | | | And that I guess would be the test, right? If Ben says to his wife "Why don't we invest in six more of these?" [Laughs quietly.] Or maybe even just four more of these. "For our friends" And then her face will tell the tale as to whether or not this is simply a matter of wanting to be a gracious host, or a matter of "Let's keep our private thing private." |
| 00:41:37 | Jesse | Host | I'm with ya. |
| 00:41:39 | John | Host | They do look cozy. |
| 00:41:40 | Jesse | Host | If it's a group activity, it seems fun to me. We're all gonna embarrass ourselves together. |
| 00:41:45 | John | Host | Yeah. Was it the Snuggie which was the big |
| 00:41:48 | Jesse | Host | Yeah. |
| 00:41:49 | John | Host | popular on the Internet, the wearable blankie? |
| 00:41:51 | Jesse | Host | Yeah. |
| 00:41:52 | John | Host | That was called a Snuggie? In case you haven't checked out the picture of Ben and his wife yet, they look like outdoorsy Snuggies. |
| 00:41:57 | Jesse | Host | Eh, it's fun. They're pretty cute in this picture. |
| 00:42:00 | John | Host | Look. This couple is adorable. And I want them to enjoy themselves however they want. But yeah, go ahead and say to your wife, Ben, "Let's get four more of these." Her eyes will tell the tale. They will either shine in delight or widen in horror. That will be the sound of your gavel. |
| 00:42:18 | Sound Effect | Sound Effect | [Three gavel bangs.] |
| | | | |

| 00:42:19 | Jesse | Host | We received a letter from a listener named Sam, in response to the episode " Tried Green Tomatoes ." (Fried Green Tomatoes.) Not the Sam from the dispute, by the way. Listeners of that episode will remember the obscure cultural reference was a recipe for tomato soup cake. |
|----------|-------|------|--|
| 00:42:35 | John | Host | Tomato soup cake! |
| 00:42:37 | Jesse | Host | Yeah. Sam has a related cake recipe to share. This is what he says. Says: |
| | | | "Hailing from the province of Nova Scotia—that's in Canada—I have a piece of obscure culinary Canadiana for your pleasure. Allow me to present to you the Great Canadian Ketchup Cake." |
| 00:42:57 | John | Host | Whoa. |
| 00:42:58 | Jesse | Host | "It is widely advertised on Heinz Ketchup bottles. My curiosity got the best of me, and I prepared it for myself and my loved ones. Admittedly there was a peculiar ketchup taste." |
| 00:43:10 | John | Host | [Laughs.] Really? |
| 00:43:11 | Jesse | Host | [Chuckling] Yeah. |
| 00:43:12 | John | Host | Was there? |
| | | | [Both laugh.] |
| 00:43:15 | Jesse | Host | "But overall, it was moist and cake-like." [Laughs.] "With a kind of generic 'cake' flavor." [Laughs.] "I have provided a link to the recipe for your perusal." |
| | | | We will share that link at our website, MaximumFun.org. |
| 00:43:32 | John | Host | I'm looking at it right now, and I will say that this is no tomato soup cake. Because tomato soup cake—which, the recipe I read into the record was from MFK Fisher and is an American cake dating back to the twenty, thirties, or forties or so—that's a savory cake. That is much more in the realm of like a fruitcake or a gingerbread. A dense , savory cake, and I know that because our colleague at Maximum Fun, K.T., made it and brought it to the Maximum Fun holiday party. And I very gamely enjoyed a slice of it. It was an odd flavor, to be sure, but it was not sweet. |
| | | | Whereas this picture of Great Canadian Heinz Ketchup Cake, with buttercream frosting, is clearly passing itself off as Capital-C Classic Cake. It looks like red velvet cake! But instead it's red ketchup cake. And this does not look like it would be for me. And the recipe is provided by Heinz. And look, Heinz? When it comes to ketchup, you're the only brand in town. Sorry, Hunt's. No good. Heinz is the best. |
| | | | But the quote on the— [laughs] the quote on the website says, [pronouncing the question mark] "Ketchup in a cake? Created to celebrate Heinz's 100th anniversary in Canada, this show-stopping cake tastes as good as it looks." [Stifles laughter and makes an uncertain "ermgh" noise.] Show-stopping. I think that means that as soon as someone baked this for the first time, The Great British Bake Off had to cancel itself. |

| | | | [Both laugh.] |
|----------|-------|------|---|
| 00:45:08 | Jesse | Host | I think it might mean that now that we've talked about it for five minutes, we have to stop this show. |
| 00:45:12 | John | Host | [Laughs.] That's right! Oh, are we coming to the end? |
| 00:45:14 | Jesse | Host | Yeah, the docket's clear! That's it for another episode of Judge John Hodgman ! |
| 00:45:19 | John | Host | Hang on a second, though. It's not the end, 'cause I've got something for you. |
| 00:45:22 | Jesse | Host | Yeah, what's that? |
| 00:45:23 | John | Host | [Singing] |
| | | | When you had left our pirate fold We tried to raise our spirits faint According to our custom old with quip and quibble quaint! |
| | | | But all in vain the quips we heard We lay and sobbed upon the rocks Until to somebody occurred a startling paradox |
| | | | A paradox? A paradox! [Speeding up] A most ingenious paradox! With quips and quibbles heard in flocks, but none to beat this paradox! Ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! |
| | | | [Speaking] See, Lin, I learned it! I learned it for you ! |
| 00:45:48 | Jesse | Host | [Laughs.] I like that I couldn't identify whether Gilbert and Sullivan had written that "Ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!"— |
| | | | [John laughs.] |
| | | | —or whether that's just how you gloat naturally. |
| 00:45:58 | John | Host | [Mix of genuine laughter and deliberate smugness] Ha ha ha HA HA! That's how I gloat naturally! |
| 00:46:01 | Jesse | Host | [Laughs.] It's— |
| 00:46:02 | John | Host | [Singing] |
| | | | We knew your taste for curious quips For cranks and contradictions queer And with the laughter on our lips We wished you there to hear |
| | | | We said if we could tell it him How Frederic would the joke enjoy And so we've risked both life and limb To tell it to our boy! |
| | | | A paradox, a paradox A most ingenious paradox With quips and quibbles— [speeds up into frantic incoherence] . |

| | | | [A couple of exhausted sighs, and then returns to regular speech.] |
|----------|--------------|------------|---|
| | | | Finally. Full circle. I love Pirates of Penzance. Love it! |
| 00:46:24 | Jesse | Host | This week's episode was edited by Jesus Ambrosio . Our producer is Jennifer Marmor . The very model of a modern major general. |
| | | | [John whistles the tune.] |
| | | | Follow us on Twitter at @JesseThorn and @hodgman . We're on Instagram at @judgejohnhodgman . Make sure to hashtag your Judge John Hodgman Tweets #JJHo , and check out the Maximum Fun subreddit to discuss this episode. Submit your cases at MaximumFun.org/jjho or email hodgman@maximumfun.org. |
| | | | We'll talk to you next time on the Judge John Hodgman podcast. |
| 00:46:57 | Sound Effect | Transition | [Three gavel bangs.] |
| 00:46:59 | John | Host | [Singing] I am a little boy of FIIIIIVE! |
| | | | [Both laugh.] |
| 00:47:06 | Jesse | Host | [Singing] I want to see the face of GODDDD! |
| 00:47:09 | John | Host | [Laughs.] |
| | | | [Singing] |
| | | | For some ridiculous reason to which however I've no desire to be disloyal Some person in authority, I don't know who Very likely the astronomer royal Has decided that although for such a beastly month as February, twenty-eight days as a rule are plenty One year in every four his days shall be reckoned as nine-and- twenty |
| | | | Through some singular coincidence I shouldn't be surprised if it were owing to the agency of an ill- natured fairyyy You are the victim of this clumsy arrangement Having been born in Leap Year on the 29th of Februaryyy |
| | | | And so by a simple arithmetical process you'll easily discover That though you've lived 21 years Yet if we go by birthdays you're only five And a little bit oooverrr |
| 00:48:08 | Music | Host | A cheerful guitar chord. |
| 00:48:09 | Speaker 1 | Guest | MaximumFun.org. |
| 00:48:11 | Speaker 2 | Guest | Comedy and culture. |
| 00:48:12 | Speaker 3 | Guest | Artist owned— |
| 00:48:13 | Speaker 4 | Guest | -audience supported. |
| | | | |